Save the Cell Phones

The other day I heard that you where planning to take away my cell phone this paper will give you a few reasons why my cell phone is a good thing. The first reason is for communication. The second reason is for emergencies. And the last reason is texting.

Reason number one is for communication lets say my practice gets canceled how will I get a hold of you. I could be waiting a t the football field for two whole hours. Or what if I want to go to a game after school how will I contact you? Also I just need to talk to my friends.

I might need it for emergencies like if the bus driver gets knocked out some one will have to call 911. Or, a bad guy brakes into are house. Or, there is a fire. These were just a few emergencies that I would need a cell phone for.

The final reason is texting. Texting is good is because it helps me with my spelling. It is also another way of communication and it is not as loud as talking. And I can communicate with my friends with out wasting my minuets.

These are a few reasons why I should keep my cell phone. So, please let me keep my phone. If you let me keep my cell phone I promise to be good.
